BATH

The Romans came to Bath nearly 2000 years ago, and they brought with them many strange customs and ideas, some of which we still have today. Staff at the Roman Baths look after these objects that the Romans left us, but sometimes it is difficult to work out what they are!

Here are some things they left behind.

See if you can work out what these mystery objects are.

You might need to ask yourself these questions:

- What colour is it?
- What shape is it?
- What might it feel like?
- What is it made from?
- How big is it?
- How was it made?
- How heavy is it? Very heavy, heavy, light, very light?
- Is it decorated?
- What was it used for?
- Who used it?

Have you worked out what they are?
